9 meeting with interne committee. Passed on 10 several foreign candidates.
11 Committee decided Dr Dordevich would have to go and Alec 12 agreed to carry the news.
Dordevich is over fifty, an 1 escapee from the iron curtain.
Has extreme language difficulty 2 and unable to cope with problems of emergency room.
3 I was shaken to discover Alec 4 had dictated a formal note and instructed Lillian to leave it for 5 the doctor at the call box.

TUESDAY - APRIL 14

Conference with dietary and nursing 9 about night meals.
Alec hired a Mr. Smalders, now 10 at UCLA hospital as Housekeeping dept. head. His son is librarian 11 at Chehalis.
Took Hugh Percy and Margaret 12 Miller to Seattle for tour of new teaching hospital.
1 Dr. Dordevich was of course unhappy over his dismissal. Caught me in 2 hall after his talks with Dr Burt and Alec. I had strange sensation 3 of having ~~had~~ watched our culture and religion dissolve with our 4 inability to meet the need of this one person. I was ashamed and 5 wanted to run away. Alec finally wrote an explanatory letter of recommendation

All types of business need comprehensive liability coverage.

WEDNESDAY - APRIL 15

9 David picked me up at 6:30 for executive Comm.
10 breakfast.
The Dardevich case is still 11 buzzing. Dr Burt has written a letter certifying completion of 12 work already done. Many of the doctors are concerned

THURSDAY - APRIL 16

Percy and I went through 9 Old Court House to look for salvage suitable for hospital.
10 The condition of the building is 11 appalling. I thank God nothing happened during time Verna 12 worked there. There is much beautiful carved paneling that 1 will, no doubt, be destroyed as well as the sandstone on the

FRIDAY - SEPTEMBER 11

9 The weather has turned exceptionally warm after 10 stormy season.
11 Verna and I went downtown 12 in evening. She is working hard getting Jimmy ready 1 for college.
2 Found a limerick which amused me:

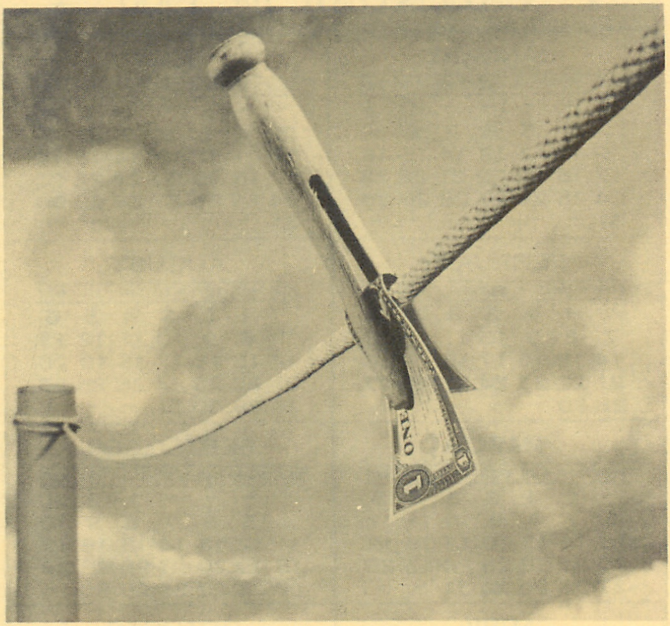
"Unforeseen events . . . need not change and shape the course of man's affairs"



Shrunk

Money doesn't go so far today. With inflation, times have changed. And so have your insurance needs. The value of your home, your furniture and other personal possessions has soared sky high . . . about 70% in the last eight years for dwellings alone. Why not play safe, financially? With the help of your Maryland agent or broker, find out the actual replacement value of your home and all your furnishings and personal effects at today's prices. Then bring your protection up to date. Remember: because your Maryland agent knows his business, it's good business for you to know him.
